CLASS-DAY EXERCISES The somewhat gloomy weather of the earlier part of Commencement week brightened into an ideal afternoon for the class-day exercises held on the campus Tuesday afternoon. A large audience of alumni and friends were present around the platform which had been constructed for the occasion. Ralph E. Bell, master of ceremonies, opened the exercises with a short introductory address. The class roll was then read by H. F. Baughman, R. E. Rudisill, and P. S. Miller. Then followed a very flowery and well written class history, read by George E. Bowersox. One of the most pleasing numbers was the reading of the class poem by Florence Heathcote. The class prophecy proved to be highly amusing. It was given by Samuel E. Bower, Earl C. Hartman and John H. Sachs. Amid roars of laughter and applause, Robert H. Gearhart, Bruce M. Bare and Charles N. Shindler presented the most useful and much appreciated gifts to the class. The mantle oration by Samuel Fausold was full of thought and impressive. It was responded to in a fitting manner by P. B. Rice of the Junior class. The exercises were concluded by a few remarks by the master of ceremonies.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION On Tuesday evening the President's annual reception was held at the White House. The home was beautifully decorated and the lawn and verandas were well lighted, the whole scene presenting a most pleasing appearance. The alumni, students and friends of the College were well represented. The reception began at 8.15 and extended until 10.30. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Hefelbower, Dr. and Mrs. Bikle and Prof. and Mrs. Klinger. Very enjoyable refreshments were served and the music was furnished by the Harrisburg Orchestra. The ushers were H. A. Bream, H. S. Hoshour, H. N. Gilbert, P. M. Marshall, S. Fausold and W. A. Logan.

ALUMNI LUNCHEON The large body of alumni present at the Commencement exercises on Wednesday morning adjourned to the banquet hall in the Recitation Building at 12 M., where the ladies of town had prepared the annual alumni luncheon. The meeting was characterized by perfect harmony and accord. Gettysburg spirit ran high, enlivening the occasion with many rousing cheers. Dr. Granville, president elect, was honor guest of the occasion. He was introduced by President Hefelbower and in a very impressive and powerful speech, he spoke of Gettysburg, his acceptance and in an indirect way he outlined his policy as a conservative optimist. Afterwards the association went into business session. Twenty-one alumni volunteered to give $220 to make up a deficiency in last year's salary of Coach Vail. The association also voted to retain Coach Vail for the season of 1910-11. A committee was appointed to confer with a committee of the Board and a committee of the Federation of Gettysburg Clubs in regard to the further administration of the General Alumni Fund.

MEETING OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES The most fully attended meeting of the Board held for many years convened in the new College building Tuesday morning, June 14, 1910.

In the absence of both the President and Vice President, the Hon. Edmund D. Graff being on a tour around the world, and Judge Swope holding court in Fulton county, George E. Neff, Esq., of York, was called to the chair temporarily, and presided during the entire day.

The committee appointed to name a new President for the Institution presented a unanimous report nominating Prof. William Anthony Granville of Yale. A secret ballot was had and upon computing the votes it appeared that every member present voted for Dr. Granville.

A minute of appreciation was read by Dr. Clutz expressing the high estimation with which the Board regarded the devotion and self-sacrificing interest of the retiring President, the Rev. Dr. S. G. Hefelbower.

A committee, with the Secretary of the Board as chairman, was appointed to make arrangements for a public inaugural into office of Dr. Granville in the month of October. The resignation of Prof. Grimm was presented, but the Board felt such great reluctance to accept the same that a committee was appointed with instruction to endeavor to have the resignation withdrawn. The efforts of the committee were successful and Prof. Grimm will remain.

Honorary degrees were ordered to be conferred upon the following: Doctor of Divinity, the Rev. Amos A. Parr of Lock Haven; Doctor of Science, Rev. David R. Sumstine of Wilkinsburg; Rev. Prof. Wm. K. Hill of Carthage, Ill.; Surgeon George W. Stoner of Ellis Island, N. Y. Honorary A.M., Prof. John J. Brehm of Harrisburg. Honorary Master of Arts, Carroll Keller of Harrisburg.

A resolution in which the student body will be interested was as follows: That the appointment of members of the Athletic Council for 1910-1911 be made by the Executive Committee, and that the same committee shall have full power to perform such acts and make such rules as shall best serve the athletic interests of the College, and to this committee the report and recommendations of the Athletic Council shall be referred.

Many most important matters were presented for the consideration of the Board but about all were held in abeyance for the approval or the reversal of the new administration.

Dr. Charles Baum was re-elected a member of the Board, his membership having expired under a rule.

This was the most harmonious and enthusiastic meeting of the Board within the recollection of all participating and it is confidently believed that a new era has begun for Gettysburg College.

The Rabbit Hunters

By Carl Jenkins

(Copyright, 1909 by Associated Literary Press.)

And on that November night, while every one at Hilltop, as the manor house was called, slept and dreamed, the first snow of the season came falling softly down, and when day dawned a pure white mantle covered the earth for miles around. One person in particular at Hilltop bailed the snow with delight. She had made two or three circles of the house before she appeared at the breakfast table and said to her widowed mother—

"It's just what I have been waiting for. I shall kill as many as 20 rabbits to-day. They were running about last night, and left a thousand tracks. Oh, mother, I wish you loved to tramp about in the snow—and fall down and roll over and get up—and walk three or four miles—and shoot rabbits—and—be a Nimrod."

The widow Warden looked up at the 20-year-old daughter with an indulgent smile and shook her head. There were good sisters who whispered that Miss Jeannie was a bit of a hoyden. She fished, hunted, prospected, rode horse-back, rowed, swam, and she didn't know how to sew or cook. When she found a hole in the heel of her stocking or a rip in her dress she carefully hung the article on the back of a chair for some one else to mend. If other girls said she was a hoyden all the young men said she was good looking, and she didn't seem to care either way.

Half an hour after she had bolted her breakfast, the girl was out in her short skirt and leggings, and with her gun on her shoulder, she picked out a rabbit track she knew and followed it toward the woods back of the house. If that rabbit had known of the presence of the bloodthirsty girl in the house he would have headed for the north pole instead of his home under a brush heap, but as he didn't know, he wandered over half the county and finally reached home and went to sleep. He was awakened by footsteps softly approaching his hiding place.

Miss Jeannie Stood Looking and Wondering.

He peeped out and saw a girl with red cheeks, hazel eyes and brown hair. There was the report of a gun and down he went, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had no agent at hand. If there had been one he would surely have been "sassed." The slain rabbit was slung over her shoulder and the hunter went on.

Forty rods further on a second rabbit made a bolt but found cover before he became a target. The huntress was cautiously advancing, finger on trigger, when something came bounding over the brush heap and she fired. The other rabbit had squealed when he felt the shot; this one raised his voice in howls and k-y-l's that made the forest ring.

It was not a rabbit at all, but a small dog, and he ran around in circles as he yelped. Miss Jeannie stood looking and wondering when a young man appeared through the trees beyond. He, also, was a Nimrod; he, also, had a slain hare on his back. While he was yet 30 feet away, he called out:

"Now, then, young fellow, why didn't you wait and assassinate me? You either shot my dog on purpose, or else you are not fit to be trusted with a gun!"

As Miss Jeannie was wearing a round fur cap and a short jacket, the mistake was pardonable.

"If you can't tell a dog from a rabbit what are you doing out here?" continued the young man as he advanced.

"It's isn't hurt much," replied the girl, as the dog ceased to yelp, and she moved from the underbrush which had partly hidden her.

"I—I beg pardon!" gasped the hunter, as he came to a stop within five feet of her. "You see—you know—"

"Yes, I see that you took me for a small boy out with his first gun, and I know that I have shot as many rabbits as you have. If your dog had barked I should not have shot."

"Oh, no harm done—not at all. I think most of the shot missed Foxy. Yes, he should have barked. Yes—just so."

"But you just the same as called me an assassin!" said the girl, who saw that the stranger was a good looking young man.

"Sorry, you know—very sorry," he replied. "I—I don't think I meant it."

"And you said I shot your dog on purpose!"

"Sorry—very sorry. I must have been excited."

"And that I probably desired to assassinate you!"

"Sorry—awfully sorry. The dog yelping in pain must have excited me. Permit me to introduce myself as Phillip Meadows of the city, and stopping with my uncle, Judge Spears, for a few days. Miss—er—Miss—I must express my deepest regrets."

Miss Jeannie could do no less than give her name, and by that time the wounded dog had crawled to her feet and was asking her forgiveness for being shot. An examination showed that he had received five or six of the leaden pellets.

"Are you a competent dog doctor?" Miss Jeannie asked.

"Well—er—no," blushed the young man.

"But I am, though I have no dog at present. The shot must be picked out and the dog taken good care of for some days. I shot him, and I'll take him home with me and cure him."

"But you didn't mean to shoot him, you know; and my uncle's coachman—"

"May putter around and do just the wrong thing," she finished. "The dog shall go home with me, and in a week I shall have him as well as ever. Mr. Meadows, care must be taken not to let a wounded dog relapse. Did you know that?"

"Gracious, no! If Foxy should pine for me, would he have a relapse? You know he has been my constant companion for the last three years."

Miss Jeannie looked him straight in the eyes until he dropped his and then ventured:

"If you are not afraid of being assassinated by the 'young fellow' you might call in a day or two and see how Foxy is getting along. Oh, but you needn't call after all. You may telephone."

"But Foxy will want to see me and I him. If you don't mind—"

"Well, if I'm not at home, Foxy will be in the kennel."

Foxy turned out to be a dog that knew a thing or two. He gave one look at his master, which might have been accompanied by a wink, and then trotted off with the girl, who had given up any further hunting for the day. At the house the dog was tied up and two pellets picked out of his neck by the aid of a penknife, and from thence on his attitude was that of a dog having a mission.

On the afternoon of the second day, Mr. Meadows appeared and was introduced to the mother though he had very little conversation with her. The talk was mostly between him and Miss Jeannie, and it was dog talk. The kennel was visited, the patient interviewed, and rabbit hunting was discussed from various standpoints. Foxy showed no disposition to follow his master home, and the master was secretly glad of it.

"If I had a girl," said the cook in the kitchen to herself, after the young man had departed—"if I had a girl, which I haven't got, and she should go hunting and shoot a dog belonging to a fine young man, and that fine young man should call and see about the dog—"

And she shook her head and looked wise and said no more until next time.

Mr. Meadows called again. He was passing and thought he would ask about Foxy. He called a third time and a fourth and he astonished his uncle by telling him how he loved the country in winter, and though Foxy got well the calling did not cease. When it had settled down into a regular thing the cook sighed and shook her head and said:

"Didn't I predict it? Didn't I say that day she came home with the hurt dog at her heels that a hurt dog always leads to matrimony and happiness? And ain't it going to in this case?"

COMMERCIAL VALUE OF PEAT

Germany, as Usual, Quick to Recognize Potential Wealth Stored in the Earth.

An object lesson in the utilization of peat bogs has for the last few years been carried on in northeastern Germany. Some 16,000 acres of moorland, known as the Friedeburg bogs, are being reclaimed and the peat used for the supply of electric power. The land is cultivated by settlers, who at the same time cut peat and sell it to the electrical supply company, with works on an island in the middle of the bog. It is expected that this central power station will supply electricity for a half mile radius. Already it supplies electric light to Eichen, Wolden, and several other large towns and cities.

As by products of the conversion of the energy of the peat into electricity large quantities of ammonia and hydrogen sulphide are made and sold. As part of the work 35 miles of new canals are to be made, and in order to accomplish this about 650 acres of moor have to be stripped of their peat. Thus in the making of the canals 200,000,000 cubic feet of peat would be supplied for the central power station. And this, it is reckoned, would keep it going at its present rate of the production of energy for 66 years.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE ALLENTOWN CONVENTION LAST WEEK

A Vigorous, Clear Expression of Dem. Principles to Command Dem. Ticket to all Voters

Recognizing that "A wise and frugal government is one which restrains men from injuring one another, which leaves them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and does not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned," we, the representatives of the Pennsylvania Democracy, in convention assembled, do hereby declare for the following principles:

First—Under the mask of protection to American labor, the Republican party has taxed the necessities of life for the benefit of corporate trusts. It has used the tariff, not with the constitutional object of raising the revenue, but that the trusts may increase their profits and enlarge their dividends. By this unlawful abuse of tariff laws, it has increased the cost of living and laid an oppressive and cruel burden upon the mass of the people to whose cries for relief the present Republican Congress has turned a deaf ear.

Pledged by its National platform, and by the explicit promise of the President to revise the tariff so as to reduce duties and lift from the daily need of the citizens the intolerable burden it has imposed, the Republican party has at the dictation of the trusts, passed a tariff bill that not only fastened the existing iniquitous taxes on the necessities of life, but in many instances augmented them and created new burdens.

We charge the Republican party with exploiting the taxing power of the Government for the benefit of special classes, special interests, and its political advantage to the obstruction of private enterprise and the oppression of the people.

The Democratic party therefore declares reform in our revenue laws to be the first and most urgent duty of Congress, and that in the levying of a revenue tax, the following principles should be strictly observed:

Free raw materials.

The lightest possible tax on the necessities of life.

Luxuries should bear the greatest burden.

Second—The products of monopolies and oppressive trusts should be made to face the free competition of the markets of the world, that the people may not be subject to arbitrary exactions.

No special privilege.

The needs of the consumer and the comforts of the many to be considered before the profits of the few.

Third—We demand the strictest economy in every department of the National and State Government, and insist that such methods of public accounting be established and enforced as to put them on a thorough business-like footing and secure unmistakable individual responsibility on the part of every officer entrusted with authority. We denounce heedless waste of the people's money as a crime against the millions of working women and men from whose earnings the great proportion of these immense sums must be extorted through excessive tariff and other taxation.

We declare for a strict supervision of the amounts expended for charitable institutions of this Commonwealth, and an administration of the affairs of such institutions and the appropriation for them, with strict economy and sane business methods, and cite as an instance of waste, prodigality and mal-administration, the fact that one million, seven hundred thousand $1,700,000 dollars have been spent for an asylum for the insane in Pennsylvania in seven years, without accommodating one patient.

Fourth—The public lands, the forests, the water power, the mineral resources of the Territories of the United States, which have not passed out of governmental control, must be safeguarded by thorough legislation from exploitation of any kind that will render them private property and take them out of the control of the Government or involve their use without full payment for their privilege into the public treasury. The profit and use of them should accrue to the nation.

The present national Administration has been convicted in the eyes of the world of being in league with favored corporations and capitalists, who seek selfishly to grasp the rich natural resources of our distant possessions in order that they may increase their already swollen and dangerous wealth and tighten their control of the comforts and living of the people. The seizure of the disposition of the mountains in the Philippines and the oil and mineral wealth of Alaska is a national disgrace for which the Republican Administration is directly responsible. The retention by the President of his manipulated Secretary of the Interior is an affront to the honesty and moral sense of the nation.

Fifth—Believing that all should pay proportionately for the protection and benefit of a popular government, we favor an income tax as a part of our revenue system, and declare for a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing Congress to levy and collect a tax upon individual and corporate incomes, limited to certain amounts, to the end that wealth may bear its due share of the burdens of the Government.

Sixth—We favor the principle of arbitration in all labor disputes and the enactment of practical and effective federal and State arbitration laws for

Flying Machines

A few years ago flying machines were hardly thought of, nor was

Scott's Emulsion in summer. Now Scott's Emulsion is as much a summer as a winter remedy. Science did it. All Druggists the settlement of labor disputes involving public service corporations.

Seventh—We favor further legislation, both national and State, which will definitely determine what campaign expenses, incurred by candidates and their agents, are to be regarded as legitimate, and such laws as will provide for the compulsory publication in detail, under heavy penalties, of such expenses, and especially condemn the clause in the Corrupt Practices Act of this State providing for the dissemination of public information which opens wide the door to fraud and corruption.

Eighth—For our public schools we demand legislation bringing them to a state of efficiency unexcelled anywhere, and assisted by such liberal appropriations as will secure this efficiency properly distributed among the people through their chosen and directed school boards; and we ask for legislation which will codify and simplify the school code of the State.

Ninth—We favor appropriations for good roads to the betterment of the highways in this Commonwealth, insisting upon a more economical and workmanlike construction of such roads, and declare that such roads should be built from county centres to accommodate rural districts and the public at large, rather than by constructing a few broad highways across the State. In this regard we condemn contracts to favorites, given for political purposes, and insist upon honest competitive bids and strict compliance with strictly drawn contracts which will insure honest roads honestly built and free from the control of any political ring or combination.

Tenth—We declare for an amendment of our ballot laws, so that the assistance to voters in the booth be forbidden, the ballot shortened and simplified and absolute secrecy secured in casting the same.

And we further declare for such legislation as will effectually prevent the nomination of minority party candidates by voters of the majority party, by inflicting heavy penalties upon those who falsely and fraudulently represent themselves to be entitled to the minority ballot at primary elections.

Eleventh—We recommend an amendment of the Act as Assembly of the 31st of May, 1907, relating to the Railroad Commission of the Commonwealth, holding that additional power be given to the said Commission to enforce its decisions, decrees and rulings against unjust discriminations in freight or passenger rates, as against any localities or industries of this Commonwealth, or in favor of any particular localities, industries, corporations or individuals within the Commonwealth or beyond the limits thereof. We recommend a like extension of the powers of the State Water Supply Commission.

We find that after prolonged years of Republican rule wages are less, prosperity has decreased and the cost of living greatly increased. We therefore assert that every consideration of public policy and individual interest demands that the State and National Government shall be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable of conducting it without disaster, and we ask for the support of our candidates and our principles a united Democracy and the assistance of all our fellow-citizens who are weary of promises and demand performances and seek honest methods and good government.

Odd Fellows Reunion, Aug. 4.

The date for the Pen-Mar Odd Fellows reunion has been fixed for Thursday, August 4, which will be a week later than the last of the church reunions.

The grand masters of Pennsylvania and Maryland will be invited to be present and make addresses. Rev. Dr. B. H. Hart, Harrisburg, past grand master, is expected here.

The railroad companies will be asked to run special trains for the excursionists on that day.

A program will be arranged and it is likely a number of new lodges will be initiated.

The lodges of the vicinity heavily patronized the annual picnic of the lodges have already started to get ready for the reunion.

The team of speakers is being organized and the committee is making plans for the big event.

There will be made the effort to have present representatives from all the lodges between Baltimore and Cumberland and Hagerstown and Winchester. Everything is to be on an elaborate scale and the committee believes this is justified by the interest shown by many of the lodges.

Baltimore lodges have arranged for five reunions this summer and the chairman of the executive committee of the associated lodges of that city has announced that one of these will be combined with the Pen-Mar reunion.

York Odd Fellows have written that they will be in attendance with a very large crowd.

The territory to be drawn from is about as large as that included in the church reunions and it is the hope of the Odd Fellows to make their gathering as large as those of the religious denominations.

ANSWERED LAST ROLL CALL

CAPTAIN ADAIR MUSTERED OUT THROUGH ACCIDENT.

As Captain of Co. F, 87th Pa. Regt. He Had Many Warm Friends in Gettysburg.

CAPTAIN JAMES ADAIR'S death was briefly announced in our last issue. Tuesday morning of last week the older people of our town were shocked to learn of the death of Captain Adair. The Captain died from an accident which befell him on the evening of June 1st. In the act of alighting from a trolley car he fell and struck his head and from this injury died on Thursday morning, June 9. Captain Adair was well and favorably known in Gettysburg. He came here from Philadelphia in 1857 and with John Cannon established the Cannon and Adair Marble Works on the southeast corner of Middle and Baltimore streets. They did a flourishing business until the war broke out. On April 19, 1861, Capt. Adair left here with Co. E, 2nd Regt., Pa. Vols. and at the expiration of his three months' term of service assisted Col. Buehler in recruiting Co. F, 87th Regt., Pa. Vols. for three years' service. He was made Second Lieutenant and upon the organization of the regiment Buehler was made Major and Adair First Lieutenant of the company and in the summer of 1862 he was made Captain and was with the company until discharged in October, 1861. Captain Adair led his company in all the battles in which they participated, New Town, Kerestown, Winchester, Stephens' Station, Locust Grove, Mine Run, Wilderness three days' fight, Spottsylvania, four days, Po River, North Anna, Cold Harbor, ten days, Bermuda Hundred, Weldon Railroad, Monocacy, Second Winchester, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek. He was slightly wounded in the foot at Cold Harbor. Capt. Adair was with his company in their pleasures and in their trials and distress, always ready to lend a helping hand to any one who needed it. He was loved by all and no member of Co. F has ever been heard to say anything but praise of him and those of his company who are left sincerely mourn his death. Capt. Adair was born in Ireland in 1832 and came to this country in 1844, learning the marble cutting business in Philadelphia. After the war he located in Brooklyn. The Capt. met with the accident on the 46th anniversary of the battle of Cold Harbor. On the evening of June 1st, 1864, he led his company successfully over the Confederate breastworks and was the first man to jump down among the Rebels, and the work the regiment and division did that evening caused Gen. Grant to issue a special order thanking Gen. Ricketts and his gallant command for the splendid work they had done. Capt. Adair was to have been the guest of honor on his birthday, June 24, at a dinner which had been arranged by the members of a club to which he belonged and the tickets for the dinner were all subscribed as Capt. Adair was very popular. He was unmarried and had no near relatives living. He was buried Sunday morning, June 12, beside his brother in cemetery at New Durham, New Jersey. He had expressed a wish to be buried at Gettysburg and it is hoped by his friends to have remains interred in National Cemetery later in the year.

CHARLES LENTZ was drowned at Plainfield, Iowa, on Sunday as a telegram announced to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lentz, on Monday morning. The particulars are not yet known. The family had lived near Bendersville many years and four years ago removed to Gettysburg and has been in the employ of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company. The son lived in town a year and three years ago went to Plainfield where he has been engaged in farming. He was unmarried and aged 22 years. He was a member of Battlefield Council No. 414, Order of Independent Americans. The body will be brought here for burial. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters, Robert of Centralia, Raymond, Arthur, Viola, Nellie and May at home.

dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.

Federal Building.

Dispatches from Washington say the Public Building Bill providing an appropriation for building for Gettysburg of $100,000 and for site and a building at Hanover of $100,000 was reported to the House on last Saturday and was debated Monday and will finally pass this week.

That the Public Building Bill will successfully pass at this session or Congress is assured beyond all question and as previously stated there seems to be no doubt whatever that $100,000 will be appropriated for a building at Gettysburg.

The bill sets out that the building will be used for memorial purposes and because of this the building here would be given the right of way over other buildings provided for. This fact assures of the erection of the building before the 50th anniversary of the battle celebration in 1913. It is probable plans and specifications will be completed so that contract can be given out during the coming winter and that building operations would begin next spring and building completed in 1912.

Gettysburg National Bank

"The Bank of Gettysburg" was chartered as a State Bank April 29, 1814. It was to have a capital of 7,000 shares of stock of the par value of $50 a share making its capital stock when paid in full $350,000.

Its first board of directors met May 26, 1814. Alexander Cobean was elected the first president and John B. McPherson the first cashier. The business of the bank was conducted in the house of the cashier from the day the bank opened until April, 1869.

Nov. 16, 1864, the stockholders voted to change from a State to a National Bank. The new association is the Gettysburg National Bank.

The capital stock is $145,150 or 2903 shares of the par value of $50 a share. The charter is dated Nov. 1864. The first election was held Jan. 10, 1865, and Wm. McSherry, Henry Wirt, Wm. D. Himes, Wm. Young, James J. Willis, George Swope, Lewis M. Motter, Marcus Sampson and David Kendeheart were elected the first board of directors. George Swope was elected president, and T. D. Carson, cashier.

The new bank is built on the lot of ground on which was located the original bank building. The lot fronts 60 feet on York street and runs back to an alley 181 1/2 feet.

It was owned by John B. McPherson from 1814 to 1858 when it was purchased by the bank.

The new bank building is 45 feet front, 36 feet deep and 22 feet high to the apex. The exterior is built of Troy white granite from New Hampshire. The front is 4-cut finish and the sides rock face. The style is Colonial, which is carried out in every detail as also in its furnishings. The building sets 7 feet back from the building line and is 7 feet from the adjoining properties. The approach is by a portico. The portico is 25 feet long and 8 feet same floor there are two coupon rooms—one public and one private telephone booth—with local and long distance phones.

The vault is 17 by 14 feet. It is made of concrete 21 inches thick, lined with steel plates 1 1/2 inches and covered on the exterior with Alabama cream marble. Each department is separate. The bank vault has a steel safe with double combination locks requiring two persons to open it. The lock for department has 400 lock boxes which can only be opened when the owner of the box and the bank official are both present with their keys. The owner is the only person who has access to the box and a private room is given him to examine his papers. The boxes are free to clients of the bank and the owner retains the key in his care.

The inner doors of the vault are securely locked and the outer doors are 7 inches thick, have time locks with the latest improvements. The vault was built by the York Safe and Lock Company. They are a combination of security, art and science. To the right side of the vault a marble stairway leads to the second floor over the rear of the bank.

On the second floor there is a committee room 15 by 16 feet, a hall, a coat room and the directors' room 21 by 17 feet. The board room is beautifully furnished. The mahogany, mantle, and the directors' table are worth a visit. The balcony on the second floor gives a charming view of the corridors and working space. The electric and gas fixtures are in keeping with the building and furnishings and are made of brush brass.

The floors of the working space and rooms is concrete covered with maple. The building, the furnishings, the fixtures, and everything about the bank impress the visitor with its usefulness, solidity, harmony and good taste.

The officers take great pleasure in having everybody come to see their new bank building. The bank took possession of its new bank last Thursday and business began in the new building last Friday, June 10. You will be cordially received and shown through the new building. It will be a pleasant visit. Come and see it.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lake, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata, Tionesta and Octorara, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1910 season opened on May 31, when the Steamer Tionesta made her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to this medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. WHY THE COMPILER ASKS SETTLEMENTS BY JULY 1, 1910

Since April 1st the COMPILER has asked for the payment of all subscriptions in arrears more than a year. This has been done contrary to our usual custom for we have been adverse to printing such notices, but circumstances after cases and now it is up to the COMPILER to tell our readers the circumstances, and we can't rid ourselves of a feeling of being persecuted. We want our people to know the dunnging was not our voluntary act but was forced upon us. Here is the story.

Two years ago the Post Office Department made a ruling without specific Congressional action about arrears subscriptions to periodicals, and weekly papers were required to have their subscriptions paid up to within a year so as to be mailable as second class mail matter. At that time a letter was addressed to the Department through Congressman Lefean asking whether this ruling was to be enforced against country weeklies. The letter was written for self protection, our purpose being to get on the safe side of whatever might be indicated to us. A reply was received stating that it was not the intention to harass or embarrass in any way whatever legitimate newspapers. Or as explained to another newspaper man, the Department was after periodicals having no actual subscribers but sending out huge numbers to lists of names furnished by advertisers.

After receiving this communication the attention of the then Postmaster, Wm. B. McInerney was called to the same and that the ruling was not applicable to the papers of the county and we hoped that this Has-Been-Official was not so dense as to fail to grasp its meaning.

Our hopes were doomed to disappointment for this Postmaster-That was reported the COMPILER as paying no attention to the ruling and saving ugly things about the ruling and leaving the impression that the COMPILER was the only paper around these diggings giving credit to subscriptions for more than a year.

The COMPILER had said that it did not believe in the ruling as created by a department without specific authority from Congress. As a business proposition a cash subscription might have many points in its favor but a government ruling requiring it smack-ed of bureaucracy, that it was a form of paternalism repugnant to our institution. That the Act of Congress gave the second class mail rate to actual subscribers and that the government had no right to meddle in my business and say that an actual subscriber who owed me for more than a year was one not entitled to receive the paper at second class rate. This ruling we believed struck at the liberty of the press and opened the door to a government censorship of the business of a paper. This was our honest opinion and such opinion we still hold and because of this opinion in this land of boasted liberties and freedom of speech we have been subjected to an application of the official big stick because a 22 years office holder reported that we had said things.

This community can best judge whether this report was made for political reasons. It was the only report made against any paper and made against the only Democratic paper in the county. Democracy for a number of years has become a united harmonious family in Adams county and the action of the informer looks to us as an attack on Democracy, the act of a small politician resenting the votes of people in supporting Democracy and willing to pull down anything Democratic in sight. We have not found a single citizen who excuses the action under any pretense, and a number of those supporting the same party to which this ex-official claimed to belong have subscribed for the COMPILER and said they did go to show they did not approve of his act. One who turns informer on a neighbor, under the circumstances in this case necessarily knew that his act was done with the intention to injure, a vice (?) human attitude to take after what he had received from his community.

As a result of this informer's action, the Post Office Department at Washington in March, without any previous warning after the communication of two years ago that we were not to be embarrassed in any way whatever, asked of the COMPILER a sworn statement of the number of subscriptions more than a year in arrears for the purpose of demanding an additional fifty-two cents a year on each paper so sent, a demand no country weekly paper could comply with and live. To understand what we were up against, in company with Congressman Lefean we called at the Post Office Department in Washington. Here the information was given that the COMPILER had been informed against. We called attention to the letter received of the Department two years before that legitimate papers were not to be embarrassed by the ruling and that the COMPILER was a legitimate country weekly over 30 years old. Congressman Lefean asked for a suspension of the only proceedings against a paper in his district, but the answer forthcoming was practically to the effect that Congressional favors were not to be had to the matter. Attention was called to offer to give papers one year to get their subscription lists in shape and as the communication of two years ago had misled us we were now entitled to the one year time. This request which seemed entirely reasonable to us was to our great surprise instantly turned down, as also one for six months. The mass of work around April 1st in this community was explained and that it was the most inconvenient time to undertake the work, yet 30 days was the limit given with the qualification that if we went to work in earnest and needed the time we would be given, a further extension and later through Congressman Lefean this extension was secured until July 1st. This extension reads:

"Under the circumstances I am disposed to give you an extension until July 1st, 1910 in which to complete the work and submit a sworn statement. This extension, however, is given upon the understanding that no further extension will be asked for or granted, as I would not feel justified in entertaining any request for the same. I hope that by the time stated you will be able to report to the Department that the GETTYSBURG COMPILER conforms in every respect to the requirements."

It took two weeks to locate all expiration dates before a letter could be sent to our subscribers. We began sending out statements to those farthest away and have completed the sending of a statement to every subscriber out and in the county more than a year in arrears. We have visited many of our subscribers giving all the time that could be spared and we have had a hearty response all along the line, every mail bringing answers and we have carried the message of the $1 COMPILER and have placed on our subscription list over three hundred new subscribers.

When before the Post Office Department the unfairness of proceeding against a single newspaper in any county or district was presented and that there was surely some way to give the Square Deal and do the least amount of injury. The only answer was an invitation to turn informer and our reply was that we were unable to appreciate the suggestion. That an informer to us was an abhorrent thing and that we did not propose to have any one point the finger at us for such a mean contemptible, unneighborly act and that if this big great country of ours proposed to single out the COMPILER in a whole congressional district, the only thing for us to do was to take alone what was proposed to be landed out. The position of the government was made plain, that such papers as were reported the Department proposed to proceed against and all others were to be presumed as not guilty and complying with the ruling.

Now all this means that notwithstanding our opinions, we must obey, not because we want to, not because of any Act of Congress, but because of the Big Stick of a ruling of a Department.

Obeys means that on July 1st all subscribers who have not answered our letters and sent remittances or made settlement as explained in letter sent them, must be dropped from our subscription list. This is not our way but the only course to be followed under requirements of the government. We appeal to those who have not yet responded to our letters to do so before July 1st, 1910.

It may be in place to speak of the things the COMPILER has been doing and supporting to entitle it in this emergency to the support of all Adams county people. We have made our paper modern in size and make up, as up-to-date a country weekly as can be made, using nothing but the best materials, printing on good book paper. We have added machine after machine to our plant to make the paper typographically the best, all the time aiming at a reduction of the cost of manufacture, so to be able to make the COMPILER a Dollar paper, as was done April 1st, 1910.

We gather the news of the county carefully so that when seen in the COMPILER our readers can depend upon it that it is truthfully presented. We have made a feature of giving the court news fully and have found this so appreciated as to be frequently told that this feature alone was worth the price of the paper. We have supported the cause of education in town and country schools. Our influence and support was given at the opportune time to the New High School building in the Eastern end of the town, an institution that has proven to be the right thing in the right place and of which our people are proud. Our influence and support was given to the Sanitary Sewer, the COMPILER being the only newspaper open in its support and it has made of our town one of the finest residential towns in the state. The COMPILER has supported movements and improvements many of which have come to pass and many we hope yet to see realized. We have ever sought to voice that which we believed to be in the minds and hearts of our people. We may have made mistakes, as mortals have a habit of doing, but we feel sure that our community has given us credit for a sincerity of purpose in ever having in view the betterment and advancement of our town and county.

In our present emergency we ask of our subscribers their support so that the intended injury of an informer may be turned aside. This support can be given in remittances and settlements before July 1st, and in the helping to make new friends. Recommend the $1 COMPILER to your friends and neighbors not taking it. Those of our citizens who see this appeal and are not subscribers and believe in the righteousness of our cause can help it along by sending in their subscriptions. Cut out the annexed order and mail it to us with $1, or let us know the $1 will be sent.

BLOCKADED.
Every Household in Gettysburg Should Know How to Resist it.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Gettysburg.

John J. Tawney, 234 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I hold Doan's Kidney Pills in high esteem and I always have a box in the house to use in case of need. I suffered from rheumatism and kidney complaint. My back ached constantly and often in the morning I was so stiff and lame that I could hardly get out of bed. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and caused me no end of annoyance. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so getting them from the People's Drug Store and I was surprised by their promptness in relieving me. My health improved greatly and I now have no cause for complaint. Two years ago a member of my family publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in my behalf and at this time I can confirm that statement."

Bees Coming His Way.

S. S. W. Hammers had three hives of bees this spring, each produced a swarm and Mr. H. had three empty boxes standing near the bee house, and three large swarms came from a distance and occupied the three empty boxes. Mr. H. says as the timber is nearly all cut in the county, the bees have hard work to find homes. If people would prepare good boxes and set them at proper places, the bees would find them, as quick as a hollow tree.

FOR CASH ONLY

The figures for the sales on this Spring season in this department, reveals the largest business in this line that Gettysburg has ever seen, and this was brought about by a large assortment to choose from, courteous service and right prices.

Our Mr. U. G. Pheasant, who has done so much towards the success of the department, and its service to this community, is ambitious to close the season with a heavy addition to the season's sales and a consequent reduction of stock, that is, a turning of stock into cash, so this four days sale is larger in its reduction, larger in its assortment of selection than we have ever before been in a position to offer, embracing much more than space allows.

CARPETS

Many of our Tapestry and Velvet Carpets are from a Philadelphia Mill in which there was a prolonged strike, and therefore much of our Spring order was filled so late that we received an extended dating. Spring prices were less than the probable prices for Fall which was a reason for taking them; but we want to end the season with less stock and more cash, so that every roll of Carpet, of every character, will be sold at cut price during these four days and sewed and laid free of charge as usual, except where the distance is beyond the prescribed area from the store. We can only name a part here of these bargains as follows:

70 cts. quality of Tapestry, full rolls
Green Tag Price 55 cts.

85 cts. quality of Tapestry, full rolls,
Green Tag Price 65 cts.

7 to 10 Short Pieces of Tapestries and Velvets, ranging in length from 12 to 21 yards, will fill up small room nicely. Bring your measurements and drafts, you can save a full 1-3 on regular price.

Velvets, Bussarais and Ten Wire Carpets, with Border, can be made to any size Rug at a cut price, and in quantities for large rooms.

Wool Ingrain Carpet Stock, much too large to carry into Fall, and we made a Green Tag Price, which in most cases is less than the Mill price for same.

Park Mills All Wool Extra Super: regularly 75 and 80 cts.

Green Tag Prices 55 and 65 cts.

Park Mills Extra Super C. C., regularly 65 and 70 cts.

We advise our customers who have in contemplation the purchase of Linoleum in the near future, to take advantage of a price reduction by buying at this Green Tag Sale, as there is a heavy mill advance for Fall.
